As a result of winning a tender which resulted in financial support provided by Go MaD (UWC), a project was organised for minors in Morocco. Thanks to collaboration with organisations operating in Morocco, together with a group of young international students, it was possible to bring school materials and hold workshops with orphans and children at risk of marginalisation.

2018-2019

Project organiser, Project week

Baia mare, Romania

As part of the week of service promoted by UWC, I organised a trip to the city of Baia Mare, Romania, with 12 other students. Hosted by the Somasca brotherhood, we interacted and worked with the large community of street children and young people who live on the streets of the city. Poverty, marginalisation, child prostitution and drug abuse have proven to be some of the characteristics common to hundreds of minors. The project week allowed us to carry out activities that entertained the children with the aim of drawing them away from specific places in the city (train stations, parks, etc.). Furthermore, thanks to the financial support received, it was possible to supply school and other materials to facilitate the "special" learning promoted by the fraternity.
