Letter from the Chair

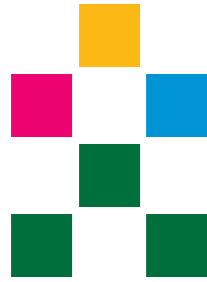

2020 was a challenging year. In writing this preface to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's Annual Report - by coincidence on the day dedicated to the memory of the victims of the first year of the pandemic - I am acutely aware that no figures, reports or results set down here can ever be separated from the backdrop of suffering, loss and ordeal against which they stand. As the President of the Republic of Italy has often reminded us, however, this has also been a time when the strength and solidarity of our communities has been plain to see, to practical effect, everywhere - almost as though we have rediscovered the selflessness and commitment that had long been masked by the distracting noise of a public and social life that is all too often superficial and ineffectual. In the hardship of the emergency, we rediscovered the power of community. And duty binds us to that community.

My job, here, is to talk to a community about a community. Because our foundation is a community - of intentions and motivations backed up by skills and resources - that feels a sense of responsibility towards the wider community of our stakeholders, the local communities we operate in, the organisations we work with and, above all, the people who are the ultimate target of our efforts. Like everyone else, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo was forced to make continuous adjustments throughout 2020. Some of these were organisational - such as totally rebuilding our work system, from scratch, without compromising our productivity - but a larger number were mental: while it is true that Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo does not suffer inertia and repetitiveness gladly, it is equally true that the effort made necessary by the sudden, dramatic change in the world we knew forced us to re-adapt all the core functions of our work on a daily basis.

Almost as an aside - but I think everyone will appreciate its importance - I would like to cite, by way of example, the suspension of bank dividends necessitated by the understandable but nonetheless problematic decision taken by the European Central Bank on grounds of caution. This situation will have passed almost unnoticed by the majority and certainly had no effect of any kind on our partners, but only because of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's wise multi-year budgetary policy and careful management of its reserves.

Francesco Profumo
*Chair of Fondazione
Compagnia di San Paolo*

But the challenge posed by such sudden changes to the nature of the social, cultural and educational world was equally serious. And it inflicted genuine suffering on people, families and civil-society organisations. From our vantage point, it looked likely from the start that Covid would reveal and accentuate existing weaknesses in society, rather than create new ones. Nonetheless, it was vital to prepare a response to the emergency, without getting lost in it. And that is exactly what Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo did and is still doing, even now that - despite the harsh reality of this latest wave - the prospect of settling into what we might call a new and hopefully better normal is visible on the horizon again.

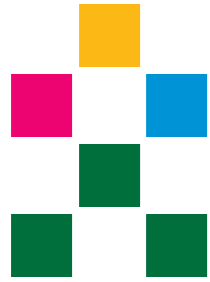

We have striven to provide prompt back-up for the regional third-sector system, by combining emergency support with programmes aimed at strengthening organisational forms, network economies and skills development. The social and cultural calls for proposals launched in the first half of 2020 are some of the tools we have used to pursue this line, but this same overall approach has been applied to all of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making activity. Our aim has been to "tackle the emergency by means of strategy". This is a challenging, not to say arduous, goal to achieve, but one that we felt willing to set ourselves, because we were prepared to stake everything on it. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has endeavoured to be as open, receptive and supportive as possible towards the dynamics of the social, cultural and educational sectors, and I would like to offer special thanks to every branch of our structure for this. We draw comfort from the thought that perhaps some of the pioneering work we had already done - in the multi-year "Reconnections" programme on the digitalisation of schools and teaching, for example - had left everyone better equipped to cope with unforeseen and unforeseeable problems. And I would like to draw attention to the effort invested not only in funding, but also in vigorously and creatively promoting the "Kids' Summer" programme, which enabled the children of Turin to make up for at least some of the education, social interaction and joy that they missed out on during lockdown. In addition to these, a host of other projects warrant a mention, but this is best left to the Report, which describes the key projects in detail.

I referred earlier to "tackling the emergency by means of strategy". This was a challenge for Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo itself, because it meant formulating strategy in emergency conditions. If we succeeded - and judging by the reception of our 2021-24 Multi-year Planning Document unveiled at the end of January 2021, I like to think we did - this is due to how we managed the handover between Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's outgoing and incoming governing bodies, between May and September 2020. The legacy of the governing bodies - set out in our 2017-2020 end-of-tenure report - laid the foundations for the new governing bodies to exercise their creativity and strategic foresight. Despite the difficult circumstances, formulating Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's strategy for the next, crucial four-year period was a truly concerted effort, in which the competence and dedication of the people involved enabled Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to launch a new philanthropic programme. Those of us who, like myself, had the responsibility and honour of coordinating this process have a heartfelt sense of gratitude to everyone who took part in this undertaking. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's own unique history and its full alignment with international, European, national and regional recovery and development policies dovetail perfectly in the strategic plan, but these policies will only succeed if the commitment of the actors involved at all levels translates into convergence and synergies. Although this message has been frequently repeated, now is the time to seriously put it into practice.

I would like to highlight two pillars of this strategy, which was developed in 2020 but is aimed entirely at the future.

Firstly, the "cross-cutting dimensions" in which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo would like to make a positive impact, and help others make a positive impact, namely: "knowledge", in the sense of active, life-long learning; "opportunities" for everyone to fulfil their own potential in life and relationships, with a special emphasis on women and people who are marginalised by inequality; "well-being", where health and healthy lifestyles represent a strength for our individual and collective life, at every age; "geographies", where the aim is to reconnect centres with peripheries, urban areas with their hinterland, and low-lying communities with their mountain counterparts"; the "green transition", because this is the only planet we have; and lastly, the "digital transition," not only because we would achieve very little without making enlightened use of technology, but also because technology itself can open up opportunities to bring new substance to the values we hold dear. These are the demanding goals against which we shall measure our success.

And secondly, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo intends to do this by multiplying its impact: so we plan to increase the range of resources we make available to partners, and offer a pact to actors and communities, in which everyone undertakes to become measurably more efficient, more effective and more sustainable. Starting with ourselves.

Lastly, I would like to pay tribute to Professor Giuseppe Basso, Scientific Director of Fondazione IIGM, who died prematurely in February 2021. As a man, a manager and a scientist, he set an exemplary standard, and my colleagues and I are all deeply grateful for what he brought to the world. I would also like to take this opportunity to express my condolences, on behalf of all of us, to those members of our Community who have suffered bereavement as a result of Covid-19. In recognition of them, we are committed to making every effort to eradicating this disease and all its consequences.

Compagnia di San Paolo: profile and history

profile and history

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is a private, independent, non-profit philanthropic foundation, with full constitutional autonomy, within a complex regulatory framework underpinned primarily by Italian legislative decree 153/99 and Constitutional Court rulings No. 300 and 301 - 2003, and by the Protocol of Understanding between the Italian association of bank and savings bank foundations (ACRI) and the Italian Ministry of Finance and the Economy (MEF) signed in 2015. As such, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo manages its assets independently, formulates and implements its own investment policy and allocates the income from its asset management to interventions of collective usefulness by means of grant-making instruments, whose beneficiaries include public and non-commercial entities with an altruistic mission. In accordance with its constitution, "Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo pursues socially useful purposes, to promote civil, cultural and economic development." This general definition applies to the "major areas" of Culture, Research, Public Health and Social Policy. Although the governing document does not impose any specific geographical limits on Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work, its main focus is Turin, Piedmont, Liguria and Valle d'Aosta in North West Italy. As an Italian and European foundation, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo also has a secondary but significant range of action in the rest of Italy, in Europe (for projects that include Italian territory) and, for selected initiatives, in the international arena.

The Governing Bodies are:

General Council (Consiglio Generale): Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's policy-making body. Holds office for four years. Is tasked with establishing Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's priorities, programmes and goals, including through its Committees, and monitoring the results thereof.

Management Board (Comitato di Gestione): appointed by the General Council and made up of five members, who automatically include the Chair and Vice-Chair. The Management Board holds office for the same period as the General Council, and the two bodies' tenure expires at the same time. The Management Board enjoys full powers of ordinary and extraordinary management of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo. The Management Board is therefore responsible for approving decisions regarding interventions in the relevant sectors.

Chair: appointed by the General Council, which also appoints the Vice-Chair. Holds office for four years, like the General Council, and can be re-appointed once only; is Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's legal representative; chairs meetings, establishes their agenda and directs the work of the General Council and Management Board; is entitled to take urgent measures in the interests of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and reports on them to the Management Board.

Secretary General: appointed by the Management Board, holds office for the same period as the General Council and can be re-appointed. Heads Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's operational arm.

Board of Auditors: Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's supervisory body, appointed by the General Council and made up of three standing auditors, one of whom is the Chair of the Board of Auditors, and two alternate auditors. The Board of Auditors holds office for the same period as the General Council, and the two bodies' tenure expires at the same time. Auditors can be re-appointed once only.

The Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo Group

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has spawned a set of independent, non-commercial entities, each with its own specific public-interest mission. These entities have a long history, rooted in the “Opere” (“Works”) through which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has always carried out its activities. They include the Monte di Pietà (an institutional charitable pawnbroker dating back to Renaissance times), from which the Istituto Bancario San Paolo di Torino originated; Ufficio Pio, which was established in 1590, and an array of much more recently established entities, such as the “research” bodies. They also include a number of entities established as scientific research and/or higher education centres in partnership with universities after the year 2000. As laid down in Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s internal regulations, they are formally recognised as “auxiliary bodies” of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, because they are closely connected with and instrumental to the latter’s mission. So they are seen as auxiliary bodies because, by fulfilling the role assigned to them in their constitution, they contribute to the overarching mission of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo.

- Fondazione Ufficio Pio, supports individuals and families in difficulty, strives to limit the effect of inequality on educational and training choices and runs initiatives designed to facilitate social inclusion.
- Fondazione per la Scuola, works as a skills centre to promote teaching quality, with a focus on bringing innovation to teaching and training methods and models.
- Fondazione 1563 per l’Arte e la Cultura, manages Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s substantial historical archive for the benefit of the community, and carries out research and experimentation pertaining to the humanities.
- Fondazione IIGM focuses on medical and genetic research and personalised medicine.
- Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto, founded in conjunction with the University of Turin, undertakes research and higher education in economic, political, legal and social science.
- Fondazione LINKS, founded in conjunction with the Polytechnic University of Turin, conducts technological research and innovation, especially in the digital arena, with a view to designing solutions for local sustainable development.

As well as the auxiliary bodies, the “Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo Group” is also made up of Compagnia di San Paolo Sistema Torino, a consortium company co-governed by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and its auxiliary bodies. This consortium provides administrative and management consultancy services and supports its members when they are called upon to manage complex projects requiring the deployment of multidisciplinary skills. The “Group” also includes another consortium, Xké? Zerotredici, which specialises in informal educational activities for the 0-13 age group, experiential workshops for young children and scientific workshops for primary and secondary schools.

This grouping can be further enlarged and made even more effective by the possible contribution of the co-governed companies, such as REAM, Equiter, Fondaco and the indirectly co-governed company LIFTT.

The model draws inspiration from European planning practices, which simultaneously emphasise the coherence, integration and flexibility of the action within an organisational system, in which the intentional focus (i.e. with a specific mission) of each operating unit contributes to the pursuit of the underlying goal. The “underlying goal” gives rise to missions, which in turn develop coherent mission projects.

In Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s parlance, the “sustainable development of local communities for the common good” is a “grand challenge”, pursued via the three Goals that identify (in the light of agenda 2030) three key dimensions: Culture, People and Planet. The Goals are pursued through 14 missions, each of which manages a coherent portfolio of projects, in terms of subject matter and aims.

Political agenda and civic commitment

Clear, targeted objectives

Project portfolio and bottom-up trials

The Cross-Cutting Functions (CCFs) serve Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's institutional activity and form an integral part of it:

- Impact innovation, under CFO supervision and in conjunction with the Finance Department;
- Planning, Research and Evaluation;
- Operations;
- Communication and Media.

The CCFs have the dual task of enabling Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to operate as an “organisational machine” and providing the Line Functions with the necessary services - communication, management, organisation, methodology, consulting, information - to optimise Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work as a philanthropic foundation with a high degree of operational complexity. In doing so, they respond to requests from Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's internal customers - its Governing Bodies, Goals, Missions, CFO and other CCFs - and develop their own capacity for initiative-taking and their own agenda, with benefits for Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work as a whole. The operating costs of the CCFs form part of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's structural costs: these resources therefore combine with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making resources, which are deployed directly or indirectly for the benefit of the system.

Lastly, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has a Governance function, which supports the Governing Bodies by overseeing the orderly running of the Foundation's constitutional affairs. It also assists the Executive Bodies in managing institutional and international relations, as well as in preparing documentation directly relating to their activities.

Human resources

The Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo group is made up of 389 highly specialised professionals from different disciplines, and over 84% of staff hold a graduate or post-graduate qualification. There is a good gender balance within the group, and 53% of human resources are women.

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's demographic is in line with that of the group as a whole: 83% of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's 92 employees hold a graduate or post-graduate qualification, while almost two thirds of human resources are women.

The data set out in the tables above relates to grants awarded in 2020. This does not represent the sum total of all grant-making activity undertaken by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, which annually approves projects and amounts pertaining to previous projects. This is the case, for example, when resources set aside for a call for proposals in a specific year are awarded to the winning projects the following year. Although the report indicates that those resources pertain to the year it covers, the operational effort (formulating the call for proposals, selection, approval, implementation of the projects) is often made in a different year. For this reason, the two graphs below show the total value and economic amount of the projects approved in 2020 regardless of the year to which they pertain. As you can see, these values are considerably higher than the ones shown in the previous table.

How to read the data

The data relating to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's institutional activity needs to be read with a certain care, especially with regard to the year of origin of the funds. All possible steps have been taken to avoid duplications in the information provided, despite the fact that Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work naturally includes initiatives whose full financial life-cycle does not reach completion in the course of a single calendar year. The use in 2020 of funds allocated in previous years for institutional activities is included in each target area. The figures shown in the tables therefore include these allocations, but do not include reintegrations (due to allocations not used in full or not used at all) and redirections from the budgets of past years. The total amount of resources committed also includes the tax credit enjoyed by the foundations subscribing to the National Fund to Combat Juvenile Educational Poverty, a joint initiative between the Italian government, ACRI and numerous foundations of banking origin. These resources were channelled entirely into establishing the fund itself, and then transferred to intervention projects across the whole of Italy.

Decisions on the disbursement of funding depend on the combined and complementary activity of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's two main governing bodies: the General Council, which establishes strategic policy directions and approves the budget and final accounts, and the Management Board, which is constitutionally responsible for the specific allocation of institutional resources.

As is normally the case with bodies that operate on a continuous basis, the number and total value of grants made in the course of a given year may be higher than the allocations made in that same year: some of these may continue in years following the budget year to which they pertain, by virtue of the specific characteristics of the various projects.

It should be noted, however, that not all allocations give rise to a single intervention project: a typical example of this is the case of contributions awarded through calls for proposals, which generally depend on a single initial allocation from which multiple contributions then originate (awarded to the winners of the call for proposals), in the year in question and potentially in subsequent years. To interpret the overall number of interventions properly, account must be taken of how the forms and methods of funding adopted by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo have evolved: Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's growing preference, at present, for operating on the basis of calls for proposals rather than speculative applications, may give rise to an under-estimate of the actual number of interventions managed.

Since 2020, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has benefited from a thematic reorganisation, which involved replacing the five institutional areas adopted in 2015 (Art, cultural heritage and cultural activities; Philanthropy and local communities; Cultural innovation; Social policy, and Research and health) with three Goals designated Culture, People and Planet, and 14 Missions, each falling within the scope of one of the Goals. For full details of the rationale and processes that led to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's reorganisation, please see the Multi-year Planning Document at the link Multi-year Planning Documents - Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo.

The annual report includes a range of statistical data set out in such a way that it can be compared with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making activity in other recent years. The thematic reorganisation inevitably affected the information systems that manage grant-making activities. For the purposes of the 2020 annual report, therefore, where statistical data was intended to be comparable with corresponding data from previous years, it was decided that the above data would be aggregated according to the new taxonomy, even at the risk of approximation. The values relating to the previous Art, cultural heritage and cultural activities and Cultural innovation sectors were merged into the Culture Goal; the Social Policy sector and related programmes (Housing and ZeroSei) were merged into the People Goal; and the Research and health sector and the International Affairs programme were merged into the Planet Goal. This makes it quicker and easier to interpret the data for the various years. This thematic reorganisation explains the apparent decrease in funds allocated to the People Goal (Table 1): in reality, this is simply the effect of allocating the budget for the existing Philanthropy and Local Communities area to the then Social Policy area for the years 2017-2019. Under the current organisational structure, the former has been mainly but not entirely absorbed by the People Goal, which incorporates all of the latter. Furthermore, 2020 saw a reduction in the contribution of the National Fund to Combat Juvenile Educational Poverty, whose overall capacity has gradually fallen.

Under its new configuration, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making activity spanned 1,086 projects for a total of some 168 million euros. In absolute values, the projects were more frequently distributed across the Culture Goal (42.7%) and the People Goal (39%), whereas from a financial point of view, in line with the previous year, the People Goal accounted for about 43% of all grant-making, followed by the Planet Goal (30%) and the Culture Goal (25%). Table 4 shows the total value of the payments made in 2020, divided into its two component parts, firstly the 2020 budget and secondly the amounts to be drawn from allocations made in previous budget years taken as a whole.

Scale of interventions

2020 saw a reversal of the trend set in recent years, with an increase, especially in terms of absolute value, in projects in the 10,000-50,000 euro bracket, which rose from 36% in absolute value and 6% in economic value to 42% (+6%) and 7.5% (+1.5%), respectively. This reflects the role of the emergency calls for proposals (Insieme andrà tutto bene and Rincontriamoci), which distributed limited amounts of funding to a large number of bodies immediately after the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic. The 50,000-500,000 bracket accounts for the largest slice of financial value again this year (33.5% of total grants disbursed). Excluding the usual fluctuations, distributions for the other categories remained broadly stable: small-scale projects still represent a significant proportion of the total number of projects (almost one in five) but their economic weight is limited. Conversely, large-scale projects are few in number but account for a substantial slice of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making resources. A glance at the two largest-scale categories shows that just over 4% of the projects in absolute value accounted for over 40% of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's resources.

Applications approved and rejected

In 2020, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo accepted approximately 50% of the number of applications received, accounting for 60% of the total funding applied for. While the acceptance rate is broadly in line with 2019, the percentage of funds awarded in response to speculative applications has fallen. Compared with 2019, the funding disbursed as a percentage of funding applied for fell by 3%, mainly due to an increase in the total amount applied for, which rose 12% on 2019. This increase in applications may have been caused by the Covid-19 emergency and its impact on the entire community, including both public and non-profit bodies.

Apart from the obviously limited availability of resources, applications for funding were rejected, as in previous years, mainly on the grounds that a given call for proposals attracted other projects that were deemed better, or that the proposed initiative was not consistent with the priorities set out in Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's planning framework (Tables 6 and 7).

Type of interventions

Although all falling within the general category of non-repayable funding for philanthropic purposes (i.e. in the form of cash rather than goods and services), the resources awarded by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo meet a variety of intervention criteria, depending on the type and purposes of individual projects and the most effective ways of supporting them. In line with 2019, 29% of funding in 2020 was allocated to grant-making for projects proposed spontaneously, mainly by private social enterprises, outside the framework of structured selection procedures, such as calls for proposals. As previously noted, auxiliary bodies still account for a large slice of funding (20% of total resources). These specialised operating arms are legal entities with independent implementation capacity, of which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is the founder and main (or in some cases, only) financial backer. As such, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo takes part in establishing their governance structure and strategic direction. The latter must be consistent with and complementary to the general action of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo. Contributions by way of institutional support for these bodies are included in general funding.

Agreements take third place in the ranking of resources awarded (17% of the total). These take the form of multi-year agreements with universities and public bodies that set medium-term goals in conjunction with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, in keeping with the official mission of the contracting parties, and receive targeted economic support within the framework of a constructive partnership.

The other funding classes are support for institutional activity; funding for co-governed bodies or bodies of which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is a member or founder (in this case, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo often makes appointments to the governing bodies as well as providing economic support; this class includes bodies falling within the scope of agreements with the Municipality of Turin or other local bodies, but does not include auxiliary bodies); awards of funding as a result of calls for proposals, and lastly the significant share allocated to operational projects conceived, designed and implemented by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, which opts to take on the leadership of a limited number of initiatives considered strategic or exemplary (Table 8). It is worth adding that this distribution reveals nothing about the value of the operational contribution made by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo in terms of the design and management effort it puts into operational projects.

Recipients of resources by legal form

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo can only award contributions to non-commercial or public bodies, and is not entitled to fund natural persons and for-profit entities, such as companies (other specific exclusions, such as political parties and initiatives of proselytism, are specified in Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's Internal regulations governing institutional activities).

The picture for 2020 is broadly in line with 2019: contributions to foundations accounted for 34% of total funding and relate mainly to support for major local cultural bodies and Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's auxiliary bodies, which take the legal form of foundations. Despite representing a slightly smaller percentage, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's operational projects again played a major role, accounting for 20% of total funding awarded (as against 25% in 2019). There was an increase in contributions to recognised associations (12.5% as against 8% in 2019) and municipal councils (7% as against 5% in 2019) (Table 9).

Geographical distribution of funding

From a geographical point of view, the distribution of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's contributions to its catchment area in 2020 shows a small reduction in resources for the Municipal Council of Turin (80% in 2019 compared with 76% in 2020). Bearing in mind that this is the largest share of funding awarded, however, this decrease is offset by an increase of just over one percentage point in the municipalities of the other provinces of Piedmont (4.4% in 2020 compared with 3.2% in 2019) and in central Italy (2.4% in 2020 compared with 0.84% in 2019). In addition to Piedmont, the provinces of Genoa (6.7% of funding awarded) and Naples (3.6%) are significant areas for the Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's philanthropic work.

() This type of usage refers to multi-year disbursements arising from the same approval, disbursements relating to allocations for programmes approved in prior financial years and, more generally, interventions where there is a time lag between approval and implementation.

Institutional activity 2020: general considerations

Introduction

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's annual report traditionally includes a statistical section on the grants awarded in the year covered by the report. This section adheres to a standard structure, which also derives from the need to provide the supervisory authority, in this case the Italian Ministry of Finance and the Economy, with a pre-determined set of data for reporting purposes.

The grant-making statistics set out in the previous chapter of this report do not provide a full picture of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's philanthropic work or, more especially, the effects of the projects its supports in terms of subject areas, beneficiaries and work done. The outcomes of a year of philanthropic activity by a large foundation of banking origin like Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo transcend the basic data, such as the number of projects supported, the amounts of funding approved, the beneficiary bodies and so on.

In light of this, work started in 2020 on the implementation of a plan to enhance Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's approach to collecting data about its grant-making, for the specific purpose of making the organisation's everyday efforts and the outcomes thereof easier to understand and more interesting to follow.

The parties concerned therefore decided to use Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's online application system to collect a set of additional information, so as to be able to provide qualitative reporting to supplement the standard set of grant-making data. With effect from January 2020, all of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant applicants were asked to provide a range of additional information, which is set out in the infographics below. It is worth noting that the statistics set out below are based on data provided by applicants at the time of application: although this means the statistics should be treated with a certain caution, it also offers a different, external insight that is free from the constraints of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's internal data and mindset. Having the opportunity to consider Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making activity from different viewpoints, based on input from both inside and outside the organisation, clearly adds considerable value.

The contribution of 2020 grant-making activities to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals

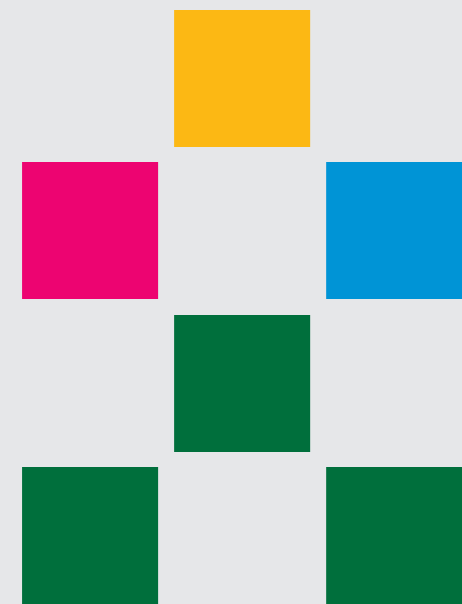

2020 saw the reorganisation of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo around the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) set down in the United Nations Agenda 2030. The SDGs now serve as a compass to guide Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's philanthropic work, and everything the Foundation does is aligned with this framework: for example, the SDGs to which projects contribute are identified as part of the process of setting the corresponding budget, and specific SDGs are assigned to calls for proposals.

TOTAL FUNDING, 2020

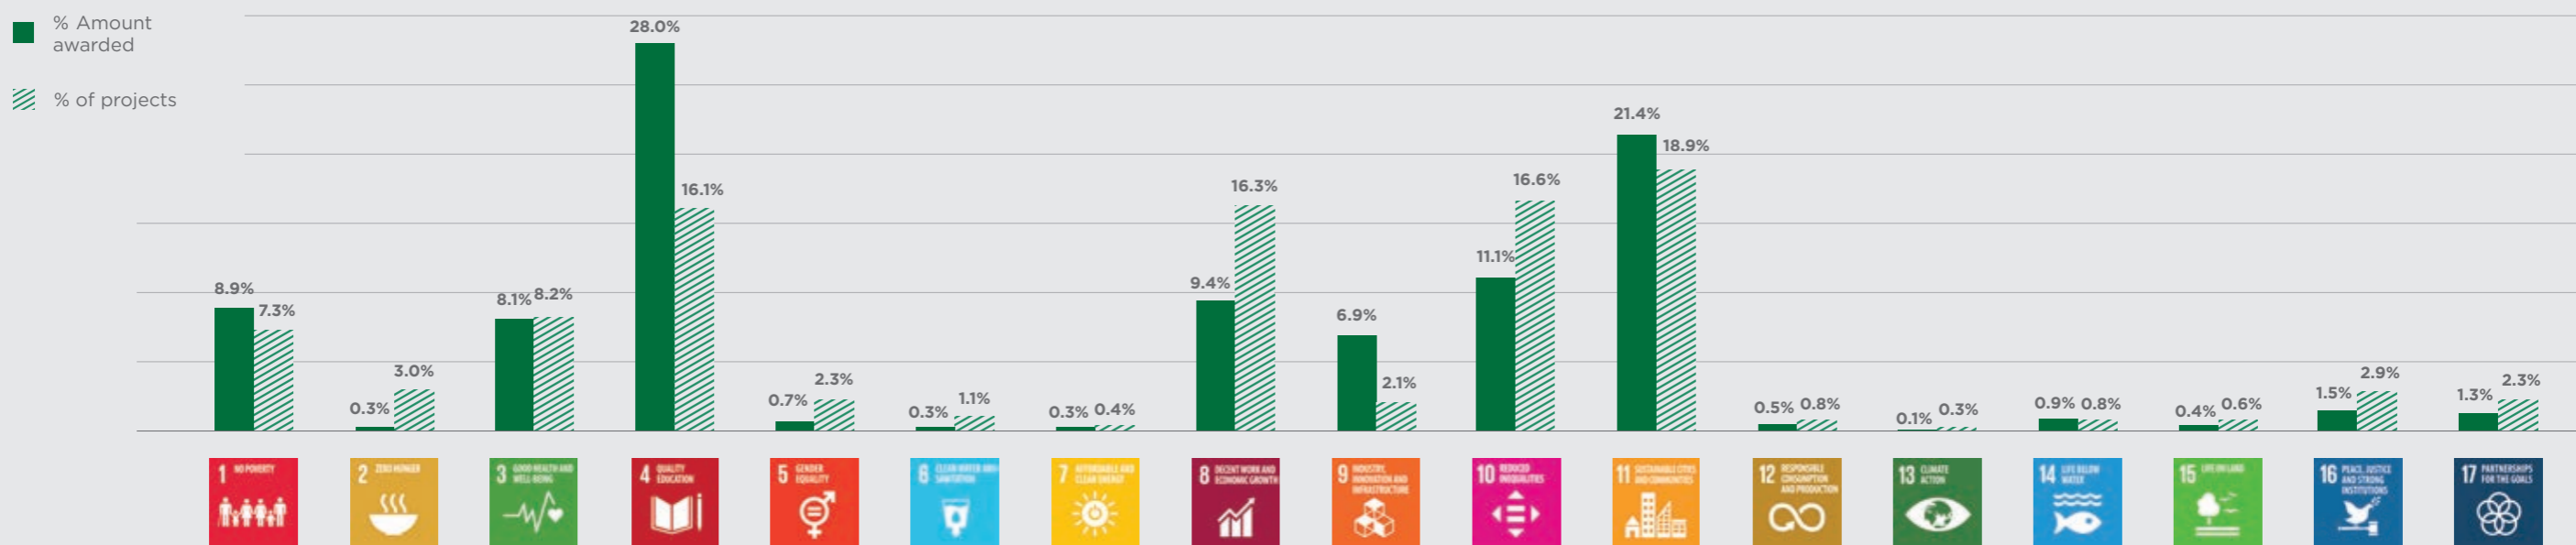

Within this framework, grant applicants were asked to indicate from one to three targets associated with different SDGs. There are 169 targets in total, which are specific component parts of the 17 more broadly defined Sustainable Development Goals.

Thanks to the cooperation of applicants, for our 2020 Annual Report we have been able to provide a breakdown of the total amount awarded by SDG and target. As previously mentioned, these statistics derive from information provided by applicant bodies. This data is complemented by allocations to other groups of projects, such as grants to auxiliary bodies and operational projects, which do not go through the online application system because they are awarded internally.

The graph below illustrates the breakdown of 2020 projects and grants by SDG.

GRAPH 4 Breakdown of 2020 projects in numerical and value terms by SDG, as classified by their proposing bodies

From a general point of view, the projects supported in 2020 were in line with the direction taken by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo at the time of its reorganisation. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo appears to have found a natural channel for its philanthropic work within particular areas of the more complex Agenda 2030 framework. The fact that a disproportionately high number of applicants' proposals relate to SDGs 4 (Quality education), 11 (Sustainable cities and communities), 10 (Reduced inequalities), 8 (Decent work and economic growth), 1 (No poverty) and 3 (Good health and well-being) clearly indicates that Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's expectations are closely aligned with the views of local actors.

In certain cases, there is a mismatch between the percentage of total projects and the percentage of funding awarded. This is mainly due to the fact that a relatively small number of major projects account for a large share of the total funding awarded (e.g. the grant to the National Fund to Combat Juvenile Educational Poverty, assigned to SDG 4). In other cases, it is due to the fact that certain types of project are carried out in large numbers but each one attracts a relatively small amount of funding, as in the case of SDGs 8 and 10.

It may be of interest to take a look at the 10 specific targets to which most resources were allocated in 2020. As previously mentioned, there are 169 targets in total, which are specific component parts of the 17 more broadly defined Sustainable Development Goals.

Analysing the top ten targets by grants awarded yields a more specific picture, which is nonetheless consistent with the previous graph.

Safeguarding cultural and natural heritage, quality education for all age groups, job opportunities, boosting innovation, reducing poverty, enhancing physical and mental well-being and boosting scientific research are the strands into which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has channelled its most substantial efforts in 2020.

Lastly, the chart below shows a breakdown of resources by SDG and by each of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's 14 missions. This shows that there is broad alignment between the ultimate goal of each mission and the sustainable development goals that receive the most coverage.

The final beneficiaries of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work

Foundations and other organisations that award grants of various types to local bodies and institutions use the term “beneficiary bodies” to describe entities which, as a result of creating a project, have received contributions in cash or kind for the purposes of implementing the project concerned. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's annual reports often replace the term “beneficiary body” with the term “recipient body” because the ultimate beneficiaries of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grants are communities and the individuals of which they are made up. In this area too, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo decided, with effect from 2020, to ask grant applicants for a more specific indication of the population groups that would benefit from the grants applied for.

For 2020, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo therefore has a snapshot of the population groups that have benefited from the grants it has awarded.

According to applicants, 43% of the projects in terms of amount awarded benefit the general public as a whole, rather than any specific type of beneficiary. Specific types of beneficiaries are shown in further detail in the graph below. Using share of total funding rather than number of projects as a metric, the largest groups of specific beneficiaries are students (largely due to the effect of agreements with universities) and people from specific age groups, i.e people who cannot be grouped by any particular criteria other than age.

In addition to the 43% of general beneficiaries and 18% of student beneficiaries, there are two macro-groups whose complexity and specific characteristics warrant further explanation. The graph below shows the additional responses of applicants who indicated “Other types” (28.7%).

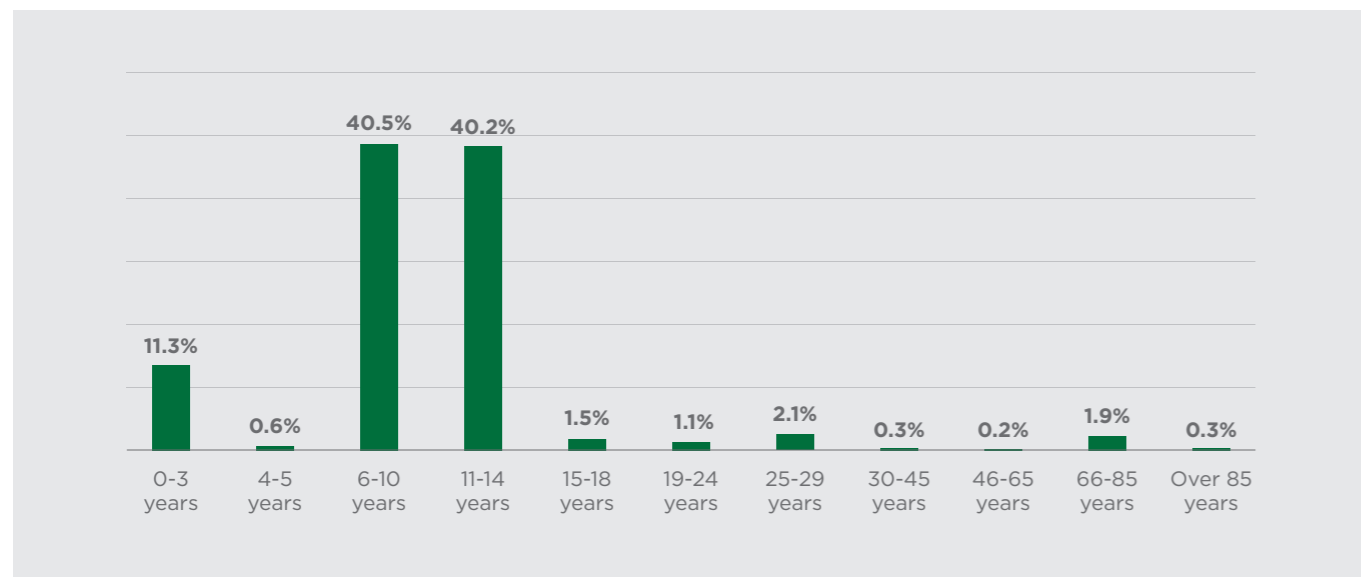

GRAPH 6 Sub-categories indicated within “Other types”

This group includes many types of highly specific beneficiaries. The scientific community and the professional community are the most frequently cited types of beneficiary, accounting for 20% and 14% of the “Other types” group respectively (while accounting for 4% and 3% of total funding awarded). These are followed by people from migrant backgrounds, the local community, people with clinical care needs and unemployed people/first-time jobseekers/economically inactive people. These account for around 2% of total funding awarded. The remaining types account for progressively decreasing shares of the total.

As for people from specific age groups, a high percentage of grants are aimed at the youngest segments of the population, with particular reference to the 6-14 age group, which corresponds to the primary and middle school period. It is worth emphasising, however, that the percentages shown in the graph below relate to a limited number of core projects which, as in the previous graph, account for 10.5% of funding awarded in 2020.

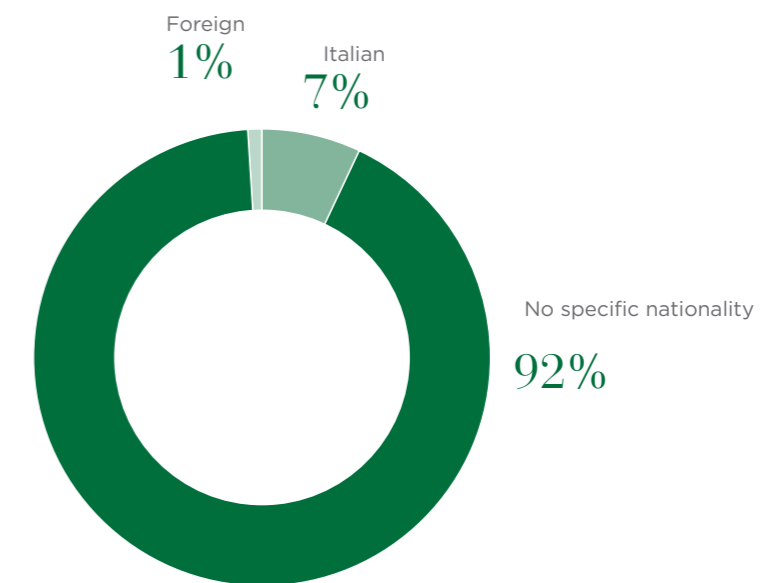

GRAPH 7 Age groups of beneficiaries

As far as gender and nationality are concerned, a clear majority of grants show no significant distinctions. 98% of projects are not aimed at any specific gender, except for those explicitly aimed at preventing gender violence or promoting equal opportunities.

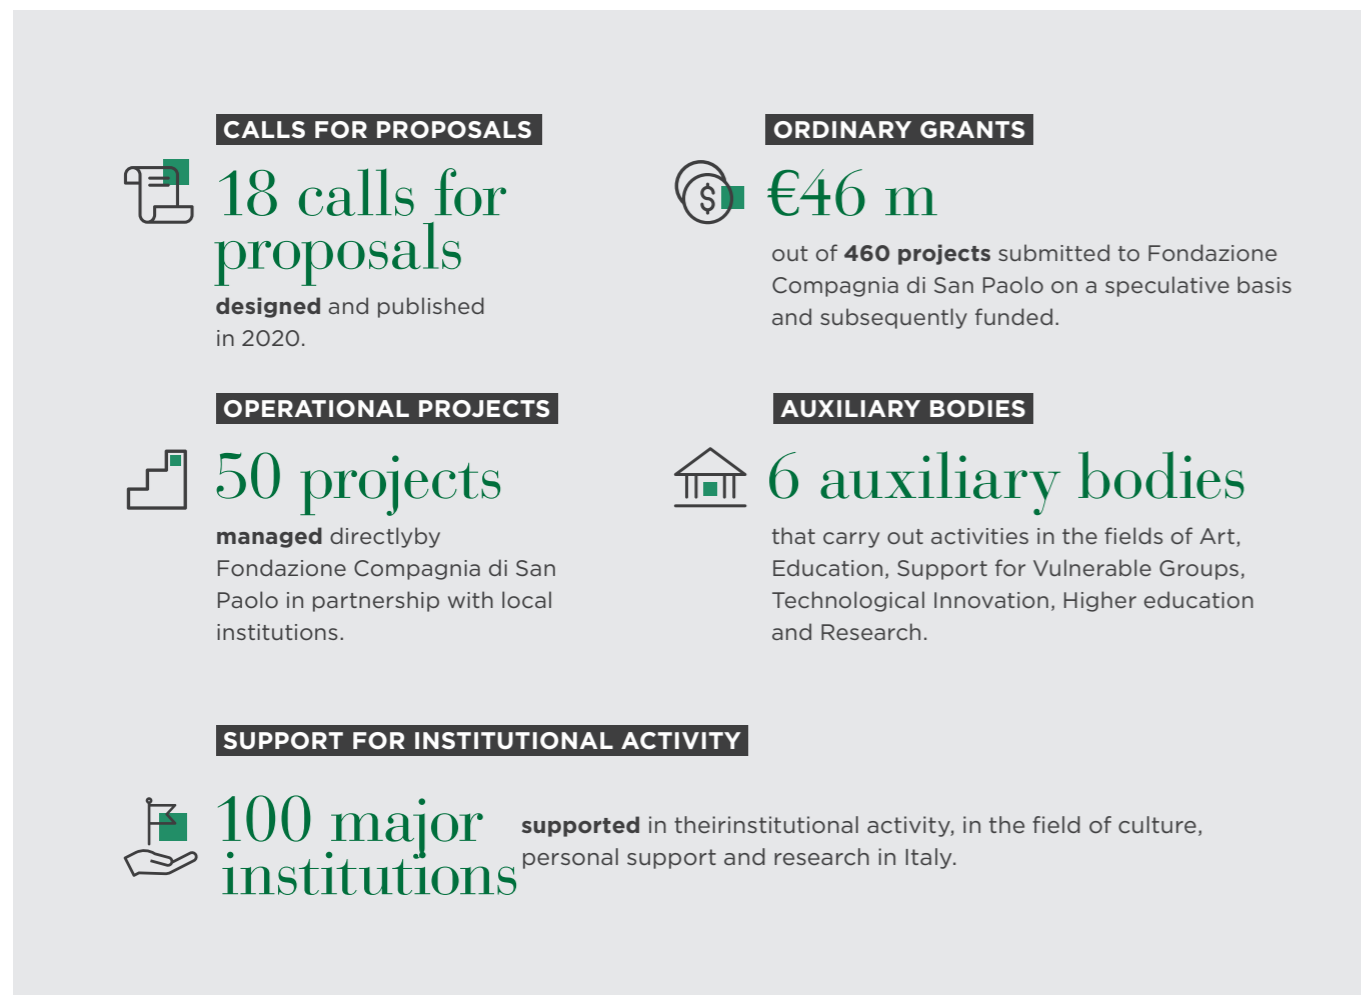

The same applies to nationality: 92% of funding goes to projects aimed at the public as a whole, rather than any specific nationality. 7% reported that their projects were specifically aimed at Italian beneficiaries, which we believe can be seen as projects that are not specifically aimed at people from migrant backgrounds. We therefore tend to regard that specific 7% as belonging to the “No specific nationality” category.

Impact on the catchment area

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo operates by means of a range of instruments and intervention methods, which we refer to colloquially as our “tool-kit”. This tool-kit is set to expand, as outlined in the 2021-2024 Strategic Planning Document. To provide an overview of the full extent of the work in which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is involved, the infographic below illustrates the main operating methods used in 2020 and the figures associated with each.

Calls for proposals are one of the most widely used tools. They are common to all three of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s Goals and determine the outlines according to which local bodies design their projects aimed at specific strands of interest to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo.

Since 2020, in line with the drive to increase data collection for qualitative reporting purposes, calls for proposals have included a new set of questions in addition to the definitive questions asked by the missions responsible for designing and implementing the call itself. These new questions are mainly quantitative and are intended to yield a broad estimate of the impact of the call for proposals on the catchment area, on the basis of the data provided by the bodies ultimately selected as beneficiaries. This information is shown in the infographics below, and highlights Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s role as an agent for change, in which grant-making facilitates local development.

As you can see from the infographics above, calls for proposals have a significant impact on the catchment area. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's real contribution to its local area lies in the varied nature of the changes it brings about. These include the digital evolution of cultural bodies, the reduction of waiting times in hospitals, initiatives for young people, and interventions to promote reading.

Furthermore, calls for proposals represent only a minority of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's action. As already discussed in the statistics section, spontaneous grant-making, support for auxiliary bodies, and operational projects are other substantial lines of intervention for the Foundation.

Geographical distribution of funding

We have already highlighted the distribution of resources by location. Using the information provided by recipient bodies about the geographical areas in which the activities are carried out, we can make a more detailed analysis of the geographical dimension of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making. Projects very often spread across multiple municipalities and sometimes even multiple provinces. The data below has therefore been weighted on the basis of the municipalities and provinces concerned. It should also be noted that this data is only available for projects submitted via the online application system, so Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's operational projects and support for auxiliary bodies are not therefore included.

As far as the provincial dimension is concerned, according to our data, projects supported by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo spanned 46 provinces in Italy in 2020, with the highest concentrations, understandably, in the Metropolitan City of Turin and North-West Italy as a whole. From a geographical point of view, it is therefore worth taking account of the actual number of projects, as well as the monetary value of the grants. Focusing on the key provinces of North-West Italy, the map below shows the distribution of resources and projects.

The data from the provinces highlighted on the map account for 97.2% of the total funding disbursed in 2020 (for projects submitted via the online application system) and 84% of the total number of projects. The distribution of projects is slightly more variable, although once the provinces of Verbano-Cusio-Ossola (2.7% of total projects), Imperia and La Spezia (1.4%) and Val d'Aosta (1.2%) have been taken into account, the rest of Italy's provinces represent only minor shares.

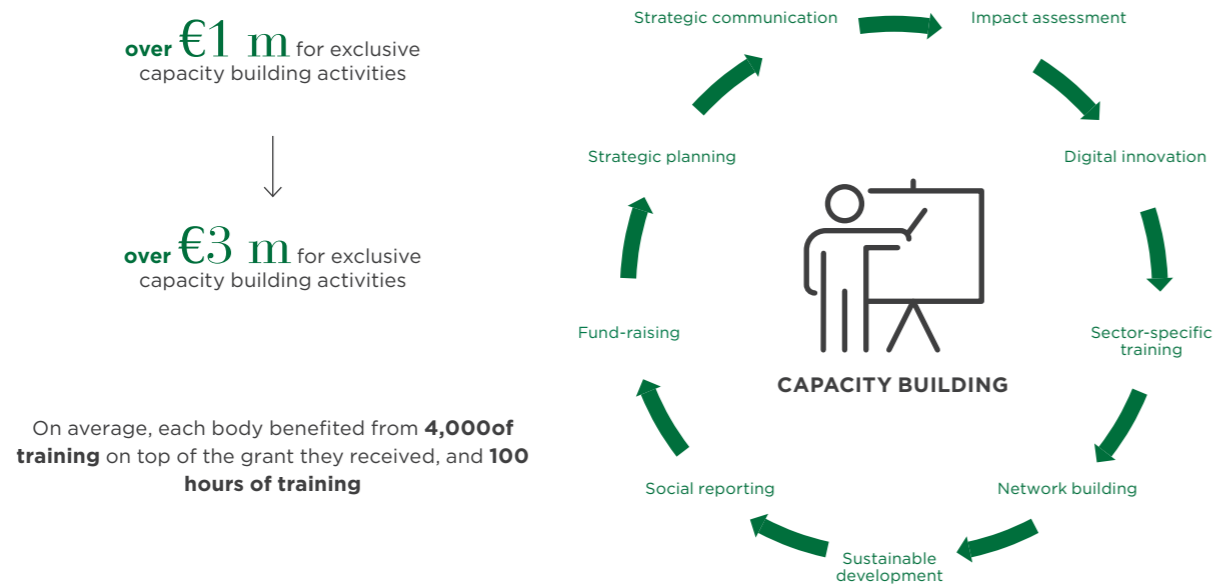

At municipal level, projects supported by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo cover about 500 municipalities. The majority of these projects, and the majority of funding disbursed, is concentrated in the metropolitan cities, especially the Metropolitan City of Turin. Once the metropolitan cities and provincial capitals are taken out of the equation, the inner ring of municipalities around Turin, such as Venaria Reale (where the grant to the Consorzio delle Residenze Reali Sabaude is undoubtedly very significant), Rivoli, Chivasso, Rivalta di Torino and Collegno, account for a substantial share.

Lastly, about 3% of the projects, by both value and number, are widely spread and cover over 15 municipalities.

Capacity building, partnerships and project time-frames

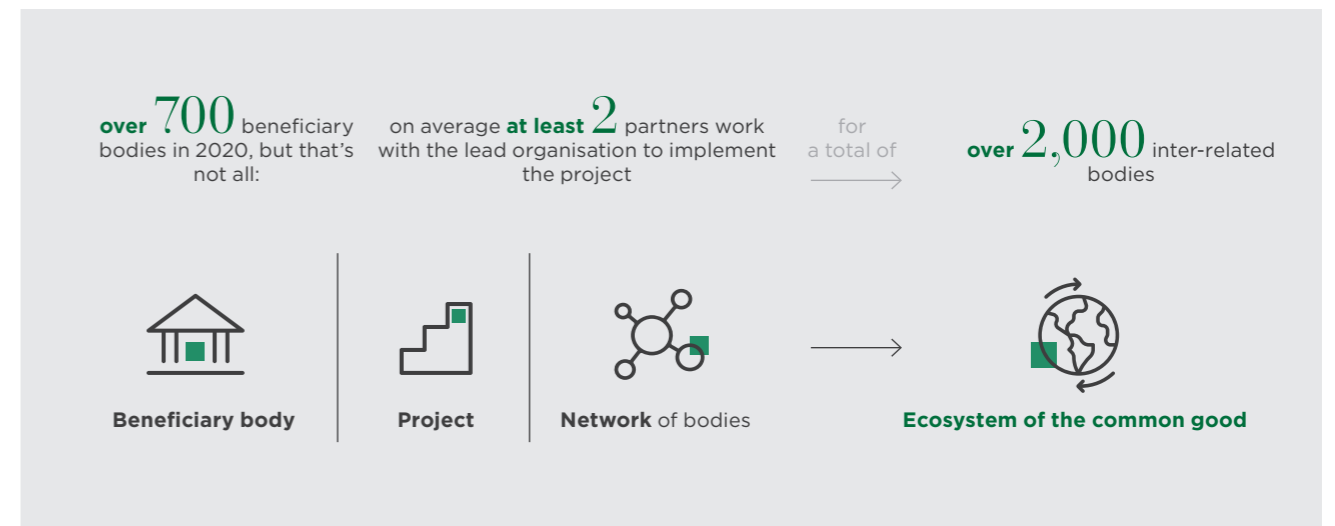

The final section of this chapter of qualitative reporting examines certain other items of data that warrant a mention because of their relevance to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work.

Non-financial support, mainly in the form of capacity building, has become a necessary and integral part of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's grant-making activity in recent years. A significant number of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's calls for proposals now include hands-on guidance programmes for the winning bodies, in addition to non-repayable funding. In many cases, calls for proposals are divided into two phases and the capacity building programme slots in between these two phases, so as to help a selected core of potential projects develop an advanced design. Capacity building cuts across a range of topics of relevance to the non-profit sector, such as design, impact assessment, digital innovation, strategic communication and fund-raising.

Another key feature of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s grant-making activity that has taken root over the years lies in recognising the importance of deploying projects over wide areas by means of networked partnerships. This has become an increasingly high priority, and is often a pre-requisite for application in specific calls for proposals. This is interesting from a statistical point of view because it shows that the number of bodies of various types (including profit-making concerns) that take part in the implementation of projects supported by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is far higher than the number of beneficiary bodies designated as “lead organisations” for projects. There were over 700 beneficiary bodies in 2020. Based on our analyses, we estimate that on average each project has at least two partners working with the lead organisation on the implementation of the project. This estimate is the result of a central value that takes account of a certain number of types of support that do not include a partnership, and another substantial group of projects, particularly within calls for proposals, that have a very high average number of partnerships.

In approximate terms, it is therefore fair to say that the “ecosystem of the common good” referred to in the infographic below does not consist exclusively of the 700 or so designated beneficiary bodies, but is made up of at least three times that number of bodies.

Lastly, a word about the duration of these projects. We are not yet able to estimate the duration of the benefits that projects generate, which is an extremely arduous, not to say impossible, task, but we do at least know the duration of the project implementation phase.

73% of projects in 2020 had a duration of less than 1 year, with certain distinctions. 25% had a limited duration, of no more than 6 months, while the remaining 48%, in other words almost half of the total number of projects, lasted longer than six months but came to a close within one year. A significant proportion of projects, amounting to one fifth of the total, have a duration of between 1 and 2 years, while the remaining percentage is made up of projects with a duration of over 2 years.

This varied scenario is partly dictated by the regulations governing project duration set down in calls for proposals, but illustrates the complexity of the work carried out, which encompasses human interactions, activities and long-term effects, within clearly defined geographical areas, using limited resources.

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo Goals and Missions: operational and grant-making activity 2020

This chapter provides a more analytical representation of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's operational and grant-making activity in 2020, divided by Goals and Missions. As previously mentioned, the three Goals - Culture, People and Planet - represent coherent target areas. For operational purposes, these are divided into 14 Missions, each of which takes care of a coherent set of projects. This chapter therefore consists of an introduction to each Goal, which explains how the set of aims assigned to the Goal in question was pursued as a whole. Each introduction is then followed by a fact-sheet for each of the Missions pertaining to that Goal. As well as briefly setting out the specific purpose of each Mission, these fact-sheets provide a list of the most significant projects, in terms of size, innovation, originality and impact, undertaken by the Mission concerned. We hope that this approach will give readers an orderly, in-depth understanding of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work, without burdening them with excessive detail.

The Culture Goal and its Missions

The new organisational structure launched at the beginning of 2020 gave rise to a significant change in Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's cultural policies. During 2020, in fact, while one phase was reaching completion, the strategic direction of another, future phase was being developed. The analysis of alignment with the Agenda 2030 Sustainable Development Goals and the resulting Mission-based structure shifted the focal point away from discipline- or subject-specific areas, towards general development aims to which culture can make a substantial and original contribution, namely local development, social inclusion, development of knowledge, and educational and training dynamics. Hence the Mission-based focus on building capacity to attract, developing skills in the cultural arena, protecting cultural heritage, and promoting the active participation of citizens.

This approach forced Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to rethink its long-standing relationships with certain cultural bodies, while at the same time reflecting on the most effective intervention instruments for achieving its aims. In the second half of the year, these two lines of thought converged into Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's 2021-2024 Strategic Planning work. This work would not have been possible without the guidance and supervision of the General Council's Culture Committee. It also benefited from Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's relationship with Fondazione 1563, an auxiliary body operating in the field of culture and archives. Over the years, this relationship has become increasingly close, giving rise to a more specific role for the auxiliary body in helping Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo achieve its objectives in this field.

Building Capacity to Attract Mission

By taking a more pervasive and horizontal view of culture, the Culture Goal succeeded in sharing various actions with both the People Goal and the Planet Goal. These included social and technological innovation, the holistic well-being of people, active youth participation and educational pathways, all of which were co-planned and jointly implemented.

But 2020 also saw the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic. As a result, it was necessary to respond, as from the earliest months of the crisis, to the fast-moving and severe consequences of the pandemic on culture and participation, including the closure of cultural places and spaces (in different phases), the collapse of tourism and the movement of people in general, restrictions on the use of public space, and the suspension and reconfiguration of education and training activities. In a sector that was already quite fragile in its own right, this stretched the economic sustainability models of various cultural bodies to breaking point, causing severe difficulties for institutional bodies and other operators, employment problems for workers in the sector, and large-scale recourse to the digital dimension, which could often not be managed effectively with the existing level of skills.

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo reacted by calibrating its strategies and working on the fly to respond to the changing situation, both in terms of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's operating methods - for example by simplifying certain administrative requirements - and by launching special initiatives to support the most fragile sectors and to support the recovery once restrictions had been eased. We set ourselves the task of giving a struggling sector a shot in the arm, so that certain types of experience that are valuable but less resilient than others would not be lost. The underlying aim, however, was to prepare the sector for recovery, rather than merely subsidise it.

This involved close collaboration with the various levels of public administration, either through Agreements with Turin and Genoa city councils, and the new Agreement with Piedmont Regional Council, or by taking part in relevant sharing and coordination groups.

Lastly, communication and capacity building were given an important role, as additional means of supporting cultural operators with opportunities for training, collective thinking and skills transfer at a time of particular difficulty.

MISSION STATEMENT

We leverage the full value of the cultural and creative identity of every geographical area, to make it a more attractive and user-friendly destination for tourism. We strive to turn every area's resources into a growth opportunity for all the people who live there and all the people who choose to build opportunities for learning, employment and economic and social development there.

Performing+

A three-year capacity building programme for over 100 live performance organisations in Piedmont, Liguria and Valle d'Aosta, which are recipients of grants from Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and/or associates of Fondazione Piemonte dal Vivo, which is partnering the project alongside Piedmont Cultural Observatory. Its aim is to complement economic support with a programme designed to enhance skills within cultural bodies, and to use ad hoc instruments to help them find their own specific route to organisational sustainability. The second year of activity took place in 2020; a structured evaluation (of the "before and after" type) is under way, with a view to determining the programme's effect on the strategies and behaviours of the bodies involved.

Preserving Beauty Mission

La Bella Estate

An initiative carried out in collaboration with Consorzio XKé? ZeroTredici as part of the “2020. A Summer Together” programme promoted by the People Goal’s Educating for collective development Mission, in conjunction with Fondazione per la Scuola, Ufficio Pio, Turin City Council and various local organisations. The aim was to complement the summer school activities for under-18s with an integrated programme of creative and learning-through-play events designed by the city’s cultural institutions, which were made available to Turin’s early-years summer schools, at a time when tight restrictions on normal activities were in place due to the pandemic. 37 bodies signed up, leading to the involvement of over 6,500 under-18s. The initiative underwent quantitative and qualitative monitoring.

Rincontriamoci CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Total funding for project

€ 1,500,000

Total applicants: 463

Selected applicants: 147

This was almost an emergency call for proposals aimed at "social spaces for participation" in Piedmont, Liguria and Valle d'Aosta. It was made necessary by the lockdown, which posed a serious threat to the continued viability of many entities that represent component parts of local civic infrastructure and often face precarious conditions of economic sustainability even in normal circumstances, despite the existence of admirable entrepreneurial underpinnings. Under the call for proposals, this variegated sector was thoroughly mapped for the first time, in conjunction with cheFare, a cultural association.

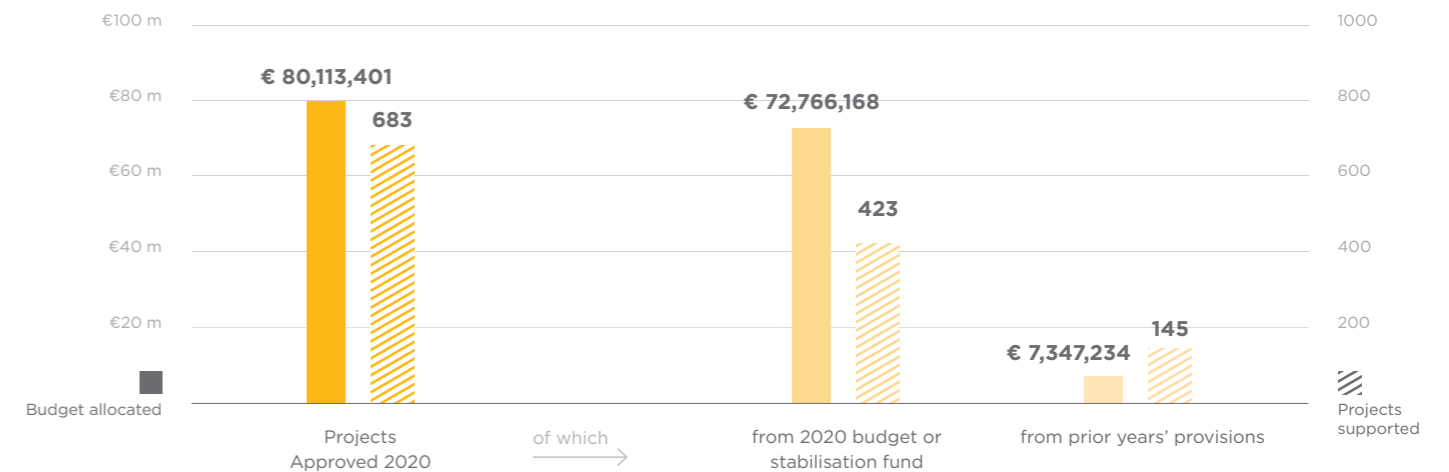

MAPPING OF Culture and Health PRACTICES IN NORTH-WEST ITALY

€25,000

The Turin-based Fondazione Medicina a Misura di Donna was commissioned to conduct this study in conjunction with the CCW - Cultural Welfare Centre and DoRS - a regional documentation centre for promoting health in the Piedmont region. This is the first study of the beneficial relationship between culture and health, and covers Piedmont, Liguria and Valle d'Aosta. Its aim was to "take stock of the current situation": to bring to light the technical and professional entities and associations that play a role or have a special awareness of this relationship, while examining the challenges, target population and needs to be met, plus the skills available in the field, the characteristics of current projects, the difficulties to be overcome and the potential that can be deployed.

The People Goal and its Missions

The work of the People Goal revolved around three main challenges in 2020:

- How to help provide responses that were effective in their own right but also complementary to the ones put in place by institutions and civil society in relation to the Covid-19 emergency and the conditions of socio-educational fragility that had been exacerbated by the pandemic.
- How to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals set down in the United Nations Agenda 2030, which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo has been using as a reference framework since 2020, to help it develop and implement strategic social and educational projects and initiatives, while leveraging and maximising the effects that can arise from the interdisciplinary approach that the SDG system entails.
- How to launch effective new lines of action and trials for the post-pandemic "construction" phase, on the basis of lessons learned from reviewing experience; relationships with partner bodies, often in the form of hands-on support programmes; and technically rigorous evaluations.

In response to the first challenge, the People Goal worked in synergy with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's other Goals and its auxiliary bodies in 2020 (especially Ufficio Pio, Fondazione per la Scuola and Consorzio xké Zerotredici) to launch emergency interventions aimed at mitigating the most severely compromised social and educational situations. Despite the emergency conditions, these were designed with a medium-term view in mind and an eye on the post-pandemic phase. We also contributed to a range of support actions, some of which were highly innovative, focusing on neighbourly support mechanisms, multi-actor local synergies, a fresh injection of voluntary efforts, and unprecedented collaborations with companies.

In response to the second challenge, 2020 saw the launch or continuation of initiatives in housing, including in connection with the relationship between housing and urban regeneration; education; active employment policy for young people and vulnerable people; prisons; community and neighbourly support networks, including community philanthropy; inclusion of people from migrant backgrounds; and youth empowerment and dynamism. These interventions have helped strengthen responses, instruments and methods of integrated, multi-sectoral social work, which recognise the interconnection between poverty and inequality and the fact that they have multiple causes, as well as the interdependence between distinct geographical areas, whether nearby or apparently remote. An integrated approach to problems - ostensibly belonging to different fields - has established itself as the Goal's modus operandi. The Goal's Missions have therefore combined specialist and cross-cutting input.

In view of the desirability of injecting fresh substance into Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's strategies during the 2021-24 planning period and the new post-pandemic "construction" phase, some of the initiatives taken in 2020 were designed to lay the foundations on which to build new lines of work. By way of example, work started on a study to determine whether social housing solutions could be organised on a scattered-site rather than a physically concentrated basis. Meanwhile, impact assessments relating to employment facilitation projects yielded valuable policy input, such as the importance of participant profiling and the finding that these projects have the greatest effect on the most vulnerable and disadvantaged people. The methodological support activities for projects promoted by the National Fund to Combat Juvenile Educational Poverty helped identify methods for creating inclusive and permanent local educational development initiatives. In view of the important role played by local communities in mitigating poverty, including poverty induced by Covid, and promoting inclusion, various proposals were put forward for strengthening welfare ecosystems, by making effective use of neighbourly support action. Lastly, the projects launched to promote youth dynamism have shown that the input of young people must be sought, taken on board and reflected in every form of youth-oriented social policy, whether organised by the public sector or the third sector, including institutional philanthropy.

MISSION STATEMENT

For us, social housing provides an answer to emerging questions, by integrating people's economic, social, relational and working needs and experimenting with replicable new models. We promote urban regeneration projects where housing is an opportunity to transform the local area according to social and environmental sustainability principles.

The Planet Goal and its Missions

The Planet Goal operates in a wide range of crucially important areas of knowledge that contribute to the advancement of development and its sustainability in the broadest sense. Promoting scientific research, boosting innovation, fostering international relations, raising health standards, encouraging the adoption of healthy lifestyles and protecting our natural capital on a participatory basis: these are focal points of the five Missions into which the Planet Goal is organised. While specialising in specific fields, they work in concert because their various areas of competence - research, higher education, innovation, social economy, natural resources, digital transition, health, own backyard and rest of the world - incorporate, by their nature, a high degree of internal connection. The value of the thematic strands into which the Planet Goal is divided has been confirmed by the fact that they are now pillars of the European Union's Resilience and Recovery Facility and Italy's National Recovery and Resilience Plan. An awareness of this fact has guided the Goal's strategy in its contribution to Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's planning for 2021-2024.

Following the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic in 2020, ordinary planning had to be backed up by special planning, without losing sight of a clear strategic approach. On the clinical side, for example, the Promoting Well-being Mission focused on anti-Covid measures, such as helping create a temporary healthcare area at the OGR centre and setting up of a Covid Hospital within the C. Sperino Ophthalmic Hospital complex in Turin. Similarly, it worked with Foundations already operating in the medical field, such as Fondazione Medicina a Misura di Donna, which redirected its efforts towards the health emergency in several Turin hospitals. The Harnessing the Value of Research Mission stepped in to help EDISU halls of residence provide the internet connection that had become essential in order for university teaching to continue. As part of a long-term perspective, and despite the objectively critical situation, efforts continued, in conjunction with the People Goal, to support and encourage uptake of sport and physical activity in Turin as a means of preventing disease and promoting healthy lifestyles, and as an opportunity for social inclusion, education in active citizenship, and enhancement of common spaces, especially green spaces.

The emergency prompted the Planet Goal to step up its support aimed at developing the social enterprise sector (Boosting Innovation Mission), as well as its contribution to higher education, by funding national and international study and research scholarships (Harnessing the Value of Research Mission and Fostering International Opportunities Mission).

The actions taken by the Goal are based on ongoing analysis of internal and contextual data, which makes it possible to identify weaknesses in the various areas of intervention and set the most ambitious possible challenges for each of its Missions, while also offering “customised” actions, tailored to the characteristics of partner bodies and the needs they meet. Against the backdrop of the pandemic phase, this is proving to be a particularly fruitful approach. This close focus on data is also reflected in the development of targets profiled on the basis of evaluating the effects of third-party interventions supported or directly managed by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo.

The work of the Planet Goal is integrated with that of three of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s auxiliary bodies, whose mission is to carry out scientific research directly: Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto (CCA), which operates in the field of economic, political, legal and social science; Fondazione LINKS, which undertakes digital and technological research (in fields such as transport, logistics, automotive, aerospace, IoT, energy, agritech, etc.); and the Italian Institute for Genomic Medicine (IIGM), which conducts genomic studies connected with precision medicine, especially in oncology. In 2020 the foundations were laid for closer alignment between the Goal and these bodies, with promising prospects for future development.

MISSION STATEMENT

We help develop research aimed at furthering scientific knowledge, in line with European planning. We foster excellence in training and enhance the knowledge acquired by participating in these programmes, so that the best ideas generate a positive impact on an economic, social and environmental level.

Genova Blue District

€ 150,000

A grant of €150,000 was awarded to the Genova Blue District project, under the framework agreement between Genoa Municipal Council and Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo for the implementation of social, educational and cultural development programmes within the municipality of Genoa for 2019 and 2020. Genoa Municipal Council has identified the Blue Economy as one of its main drivers of socio-economic development with an emphasis on sustainability and integration. In light of this, the establishment and launch of Genova Blue District, in Palazzo Verde - Magazzini dell'Abbondanza, is a practical step towards the construction of a physical and cultural space in the city of the Blue Economy. It is a hub for Genoa's innovation ecosystem, where blue-economy initiatives and investments can be brought together, integrated into synergies, optimised and built into a system.

Torino Social Impact

€ 100,000

The project involves an alliance of public and private bodies formed to road-test a strategy for developing high-tech, high-social-impact entrepreneurship in the Turin metropolitan area. The recipient of the €100,000 grant is Associazione Torino per la Finanza e l'Innovazione Sociale, which acts as a financial vehicle. The strategy is based on the idea that the city's long tradition of social entrepreneurship, combined with its wealth of technological skills and major social-impact investors provides an ideal opportunity for developing its social and production fabric. A new generation of innovators, enterprises and investors interested in social-impact economy and finance will play a crucial role in this. Torino Social Impact's mission is to strengthen the local system and endorse it as one of the best places in the world to undertake social-impact enterprise and finance, while pursuing economic, financial and social-impact objectives within the framework of the Sustainable Development Goals set down in the United Nations Agenda 2030.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS for health equipment

€8,890,440

The 2019-2020 call for proposals selected 14 projects, out of the 25 submitted, for the benefit of hospitals and health trusts in the Metropolitan City of Turin, which were awarded a total grant of €8,890,440. As well as being aimed at the purchase of technology, the grant applications, accompanied by the favourable opinion of Piedmont Regional Council's HTA control room, were required to provide a description of the management and sustainability model that would be adopted by the trust once the equipment was up and running. The call for proposals specified a range of criteria, including the reduction of waiting lists and the amount of time for which the equipment would actually be in use. The selection process was undertaken by an Evaluation Committee made up of external referees with specific competences in the fields concerned. As well as the quality of the proposals, the Evaluation Committee also considered their compatibility with health planning, regional priorities and the goals set for the individual health trusts.

Muoviamoci! CALL FOR PROPOSALS

€2,000,000

The Muoviamoci! call for proposals, implemented in collaboration with the People Goal, was aimed at supporting and encouraging the uptake of sport and physical activity in Turin as a means of preventing disease and promoting healthy lifestyles, and fostering social inclusion and education in active citizenship. More specifically, it promoted the conversion of buildings, outdoor areas and green spaces for sports use in the Turin area, and related initiatives aimed at linking sport and physical activity with promoting health, inclusion, educational pathways and active citizenship/social interaction projects. The selection process was undertaken by an Evaluation Committee made up of internal and external referees and offering multi-disciplinary competences. The total budget available amounted to €2,000,000 and 20 projects were approved (out of the 101 submitted).

COVID-19 Emergency

€ 3,000,000

Among the initiatives taken to tackle the Covid-19 emergency, the most significant intervention on the healthcare front was the allocation of €3,000,000 aimed at promptly covering the costs of setting up a temporary healthcare area at the OGR centre in Turin (under the multi-year agreement in place with Piedmont Regional Council).

Approximately €1,100,000 of this sum were re-directed, over the course of the year, into setting up of a Covid Hospital within the C. Sperino ophthalmic hospital complex in Turin.

Sustainable Environmental Restoration CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Total funding for project

€1,600,000

The budget for this call for proposals was €1,600,000. Of the 119 proposals submitted, 8 projects were selected - 6 in Piedmont and 2 in Liguria. The projects covered 500,000 square metres of land, impacted on 750,000 citizens and involved more than 1,400 people in the design, care and management of the restored areas. The aim of the call for proposals was to boost the resilience of its coverage areas to environmental challenges, by supporting natural capital regeneration projects that combined specific environmental protection and ecological restoration objectives with actions designed to promote the socio-economic development of the communities concerned. The call for proposals revolved around network building and co-design, as well as management models, some of which involved public-private partnerships. It gave social actors responsibility for dealing with the omnipresent and worsening problem of local environmental degradation, by addressing issues that are new to many, and developing innovative formulas for cooperation. At the application stage, proposing bodies were required to identify the environmental, social and economic impact indicators by which their project's success could be quantified, and to draw up a monitoring and evaluation plan. These indicators were collated, mapped and integrated into a common set of indicators - some mandatory, others optional - which the eight winners of the call for proposals will have to measure, in order to verify their impact on the local area.

The work of the 2020: highlights

The cross-cutting functions in 2020: highlights

The work of the “cross-cutting functions”, which are organised into Departments and Offices, facilitate Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s overall operation and its institutional and grant-making activity in particular. The cross-cutting functions are repositories of skills and specialist knowledge. They work in concert with each other and with the Goals and Missions, and they receive and manage special projects, including in relation to the Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo Group.

Impact Innovation Department

The Impact Innovation Department (IID) channelled its efforts into two main fields in 2020: firstly, finance for innovation with an emphasis on ecosystem development, by means of coordinated action with the Finance Department; and secondly, servicing the strategic needs of the Goals and Missions in terms of data and technological resources.

The first of these strands saw the completion of the inaugural edition of the Techstars Smart Mobility Accelerator, an acceleration programme managed in partnership with Intesa Sanpaolo Innovation Center and Fondazione CRT and which is based in the OGR centre in Turin. This first edition yielded significant results from both a qualitative and quantitative point of view, especially in terms of the solid bonds it forged between the accelerated start-ups and the industrial fabric of Turin.

As far as ecosystem development is concerned, the Department also made a notable direct contribution on the technical and policy-making front, by interacting with numerous entities co-governed by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, either directly (Fondazione LINKS) or indirectly (LIFTT, ITHACA Associazione, ITHACA Srl, I3P and 2i3T).

With regard to support for institutional activity, the IID invested substantial effort in the organisation, management and exploitation of the Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s data assets within the CSP Data Hub framework in 2020. In terms of its own projects, Phase 2 of the construction of the Enterprise Data Warehouse - an integrated system for managing Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s data assets of both internal and external origin - reached completion, while work started on the Mission Dashboard project, aimed at offering a strategic reading of the catchment area through open data, on the basis of a design shared with the Research Department. On the internal service front, work started on developing the Finance Department’s data management, while in the data philanthropy arena, the IID played an active role in disseminating Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s experience in shared data exploitation for philanthropic purposes.

Harnessing the skills linked with start-ups and scale-ups, the Department worked alongside the Missions in multiple development initiatives linked with social entrepreneurship and social impact. The Department made a particularly important contribution to the Innovation for Development project in 2020. The project supports international development cooperation organisations in their transition to new operational models and innovative partnerships with a high level of digital content: three calls for proposals were launched and seven training programmes were developed over the course of the past year.

Lastly, considerable effort was invested in fostering the European dimension, both through synergies with CSP-ST and by networking with key players in Europe’s innovation ecosystem.

Planning, Research and Evaluation Department

Much of the Department’s work in 2020 involved supporting the governing bodies. In the final phase of the 2017-2020 term of office, this included preparing the end-of-tenure report. In the early stages of the new Council’s tenure, it involved delivering an induction programme focusing on the values, situations and challenges of philanthropy in Italy and Europe, and taking part in formulating and then writing the Strategic Plan and Multi-year Planning Document 2021-2024, which was published in January 2021. The work on the strategic plan, which has an intentionally innovative structure, involved marshalling a complex range of information in accordance with a rigorous method. It also involved a truly concerted effort, which the Department was able to undertake thanks to the valuable contribution of colleagues from other functions, especially the Impact Innovation Department.

This process was accompanied by the publication of the weekly internal newsletter “Numeri & Filantropia”, which focuses on the latest developments in philanthropy and the social sector.

In pursuance of our evaluation role, we completed a number of complex operations, including the evaluation of the following projects: Articolo+1 - 2018 edition; Vocational Mobility Training - 2nd to 7th editions; Coding Girls - 2019 edition; and Tavole Allegre - 2019 edition. Carried out in collaboration with the relevant Goals and a team of external evaluators, these analyses helped build up a valuable stock of knowledge in various areas, such as: active employment policy instruments aimed at young people and long-term unemployed people (Articolo+1 and Vocational Mobility Training); initiatives to promote female uptake of study courses and professional careers in STEM (Coding Girls); innovative and experimental approaches to the deployment of informal support and self-support networks for vulnerable people (Tavole Allegre). In this regard, it is worth emphasising that all the projects funded by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo have always been subject to rigorous progress monitoring by the officers responsible for them. The term “evaluation” refers here to the in-depth analyses that describe and explain the processes involved in implementing projects and/or isolating their true impact on the situation and behaviours of beneficiaries from possible effects caused by extraneous factors.

The evidence that emerges from evaluations is summarised and systematically published in the Evaluation Library and can be consulted at <https://www.compagniadisanpaolo.it/it/biblioteca-valutazione>. Where appropriate, the outcomes of evaluations have been written up in scientific articles and submitted to academic journals, to facilitate the circulation of the ideas and evidence concerned.

In relation to the 2020 programme and earlier, in view of the inevitable time lag between project completion and evaluation, we undertook 27 evaluations, while 17 are still on hold due to the pandemic. The evaluations in progress include 20 impact assessments (8 of which are counterfactual), 2 evaluations based on network analysis, and 5 implementation assessments or advanced monitoring reports. As shown in the graph, 17 evaluations have been assigned to external evaluators, 8 are being carried out internally by the Planning, Research and Evaluation Department, and 2 are being carried out by the Impact Innovation Department. A total sum of approximately €750,000 was allocated to external evaluations. This equates to 0.4% of total average annual funding disbursed by Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo in the period 2016-2019.

The Department also mapped active employment policies and social cooperatives in Italy, in collaboration with Ires Piemonte and Ircres-CNR respectively. The outcomes of this work are also summarised on the Department’s page of the Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo website.

With regard to the Planning, Research and Evaluation Department’s grant-making activity, the 2020 budget was used to fund research, especially applied research in the socio-economic domain, designed to cast useful light on Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s broad range of activities, partly as a means of exploring new areas of action. In one special case, we also co-funded the design of an evaluation, by exceptionally derogating from the principle under which evaluation costs are charged to project budgets. Overall, the Department managed 22 grants for a total of €1,800,000.

Operations Department

Over the course of 2020, the Operations Department worked mainly on the implementation of an organisational model based as closely as possible on the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), so as to ensure that the way Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo works, both internally and in relation to third parties, is in line with its institutional and grant-making policy. One of the key initiatives in this respect was the “Participatory gender audit”, which the Department undertook in conjunction with a specialist unit from the International Labor Organization (ILO). Its aim was to take stock of how gender equality is incorporated into Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s rules, practices and lived culture. It was the first audit of its kind carried out by an Italian non-profit entity.

Throughout the year, the Department had to cope with the conditions imposed by the pandemic, which it did by rapidly taking the necessary action to facilitate remote working for all Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo personnel and organising the remaining on-site work by setting shifts and adopting a full range of precautions and personal protective equipment to protect people’s health and safety, in accordance with precautionary principles and the legislation in force from time to time.

On top of their ordinary duties, the organisational units reporting to the Department therefore had to undertake additional project activities aimed at managing these changing and challenging situations.

With regard to staff training, a programme covering Sustainable Development Goals was launched for all Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo personnel. This included subject-specific input relating to the individual Goals and Missions. Courses in advanced project management were also held, to help Mission Managers consolidate and develop their technical skills. Concurrently, courses in “agile work” were held, to facilitate the use of agile practices during and beyond the lockdown.

New work methods were tested and fine-tuned in the Administration, Budget and Financial Reporting unit, with the creation of specific posts to support the Goals and the institutional sector more generally, so as to encourage greater specialisation and better distribution of workloads between Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo’s management, institutional and funding areas in the longer term. Efforts were also made to streamline and formalise the processes linked with the production of the main planning documents (Multi-year Planning Document, Annual Planning Document, Annual Report), and to standardise the main processes typically involved in institutional activities, which were classified by intervention instrument.

2020 saw the formation of a new internal cost management unit, tasked with drawing up systematic management control reports for the Secretary General and Management, including an analysis of deviations in aggregate form and by cost centre. A further objective was to strengthen line controls and second-tier controls in relation to the purchasing cycle process, with checks on the consistency and capacity of budgets at the quotation stage. With regard to the institutional/grant-making sector, moreover, periodic reporting requirements were established in relation to the progress of the estimated amount of funding payments for the year, with evidence of approved commitments and forecasts.

Within the framework of the internal control system, the Internal Audit unit managed and supervised the review of the Management, Organisation and Control Model established under Italian legislative decree 231/01 at Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo group level. The Model was reviewed in the second half of 2020, with a view to making the Model more solid, by transposing the main points from the doctrine into it. As a result, individual Management, Organisation and Control Models were formulated for each Auxiliary Body and, at the same time, Supervisory Bodies pursuant to legislative decree 231/01 were set up at each Body.

Communication

2020 was a year of major realignments in the wake of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's reorganisation. It started with the presentation of the new logo, new website and new visuals.

The Department's work spanned multiple levels. Over the course of the year, while maintaining the Sustainable Development Goals as a reference framework, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's press, website and social media communication focused on three main strands: Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's role in the "emergency" intervention, aimed at dealing swiftly with the most immediate needs of partner bodies and local communities; its role in recognising new types of critical situation manifested by local communities, aimed at responding to the health emergency; and its role in planning the recovery, on the basis of a medium- and long-term vision. Throughout the period, the communication strategy highlighted the specific issues caused by the emergency, while presenting Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's response to them as a largely seamless continuation of its long-standing values and objectives, implemented in parallel with its existing projects.

The Communication Department mirrored the overall reorganisation by creating specific posts dedicated to the Goals (Culture, People and Planet) and Missions. The holders of these posts strove to build a uniform communication plan for the three Goals and 14 Missions, while leaving scope for specific differentiation where necessary. This work helped us assign the right communication priorities to the projects, thanks to a communication plan that identified key words for each Goal, as well as strategic messages to emphasise over the course of the year. We then turned our attention to identifying the key communication concepts that guided our storytelling for the individual Missions, and selected the projects that added most value to the overriding messages of each Goal. Similarly, we worked on the individual Missions.

The initiatives directly linked with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo were backed up by communication dedicated to the "Group" as a whole, to highlight the value of this extended family and the impact of its combined strength. The rebranding of the logos of all of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's auxiliary bodies, which reached completion at the end of 2020, formed part of this effort.

Lastly, the Department offered a varied programme of webinars aimed at Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and/or Group personnel, with a view to nurturing internal relations, at both a professional and human level, during the various phases of the pandemic and the almost continuous period of remote working

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo as a philanthropic intermediary: first results

Over the several centuries of its history, Compagnia di San Paolo built up a substantial part of its philanthropic assets from donations and legacies from families and private citizens, and it is this history that spawned the idea of resuming and remodelling its vocation, and turning Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo into a philanthropic platform open to the management of funds deriving from donations and legacies.

This idea - which is founded on considerable but largely unstructured experience from previous years - was first put into practice in 2020. Three subject-specific funds were set up (Culture, People and Planet, in line with Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's Goal-oriented organisation) as repositories for donations made by supporters of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's work, and the sums they yield is allocated to the Foundation's grant-making activity on an annual basis.

In the case of substantial amounts, furthermore, Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo is willing to set up dedicated funds, under the name of the donor where appropriate, whose purposes and means of management are agreed with the donor in the form of specific regulations. The philanthropic funds set up in this way represent a valuable interface between Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and people who are moved by a philanthropic spirit but do not wish to establish their own foundations (which are even more complex to manage than they are to set up), or people who want certainty about the purposes their donations will serve and the good management to which they will be subject: Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo, in fact, can increase its own assets thanks to greater resources; and donors can have confidence in the professionals specifically assigned to them and in the wide range of projects to be deployed over time (measurable in centuries in some cases). Individuals and families in search of a practical way to contribute to the good of their community, including through legacies, will find Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to be a competent and helpful partner.

Asset management: investments and income

The new Regulations and Implementing Document

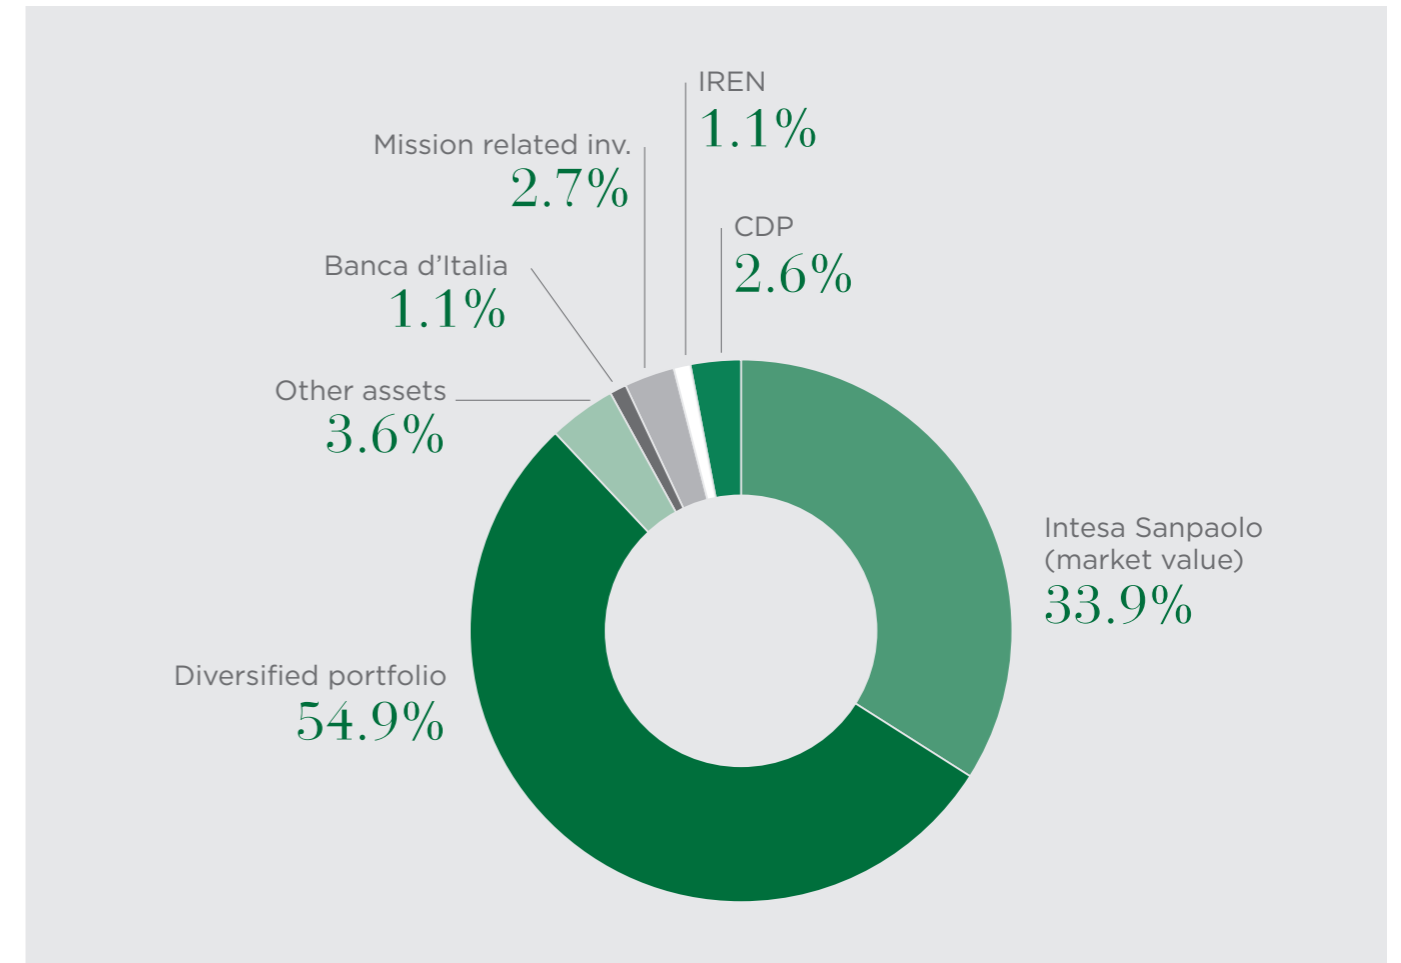

Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's asset management policy is outlined in the "Regulations Governing Asset Management Methods and Criteria", which is approved by the General Council. This regulation is complemented by the multi-year "Implementation Document", which is also approved by the General Council. This document outlines the operational and managerial aspects of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's investment policy, establishes the latter's objectives and responsibilities, and identifies the diversified portfolio's Strategic Asset Allocation, which applies for a period of three years. The Strategic Asset Allocation fell due for review in 2020. The asset allocation was formulated according to a new approach which, instead of being based on ex-ante spending targets as previously, was geared towards asset conservation. Rather than on spending targets, the review of the Strategic Asset Allocation was based on identifying a portfolio risk budget to which Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo could acceptably be exposed. As a result, the expected return from the Diversified Portfolio derives from the highest level of risk that was deemed acceptable, and the spending constraints derive in turn from the expected return identified for the overall portfolio. At the same time, the new Implementing Document introduced a responsible investment policy, aimed at regulating investment in accordance with ESG criteria (Environmental, Social, Governance). The responsible investment policy governs the procedures for selecting listed investments, excluding those involved in disputes, and lays down the requirements for monitoring the ESG profile of portfolio investments, taking account of their positive contribution to specific environmental, social and governance factors. Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo also intends to align its investments with the United Nations Agenda 2030 and in particular with certain Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), in line with the Foundation's mission to promote cultural, civil and economic development.

Portfolio composition

At the end of 2020, the total market value of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's financial asset portfolio was €6.7 billion.

As for the composition of that portfolio, as at 31/12/2020 the equity investment in Intesa Sanpaolo accounted for about 34% of the total (considering both the directly held investment and the one under management).

GRAPH 9 Composition of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's assets

The "diversified" portfolio, invested in mutual funds managed by Fondaco SGR, also accounted for about 55% of the total. The diversified portfolio consists mainly of two funds of funds. The first of these is a traditional multi-asset fund, and the second is a fund dedicated to alternative assets.

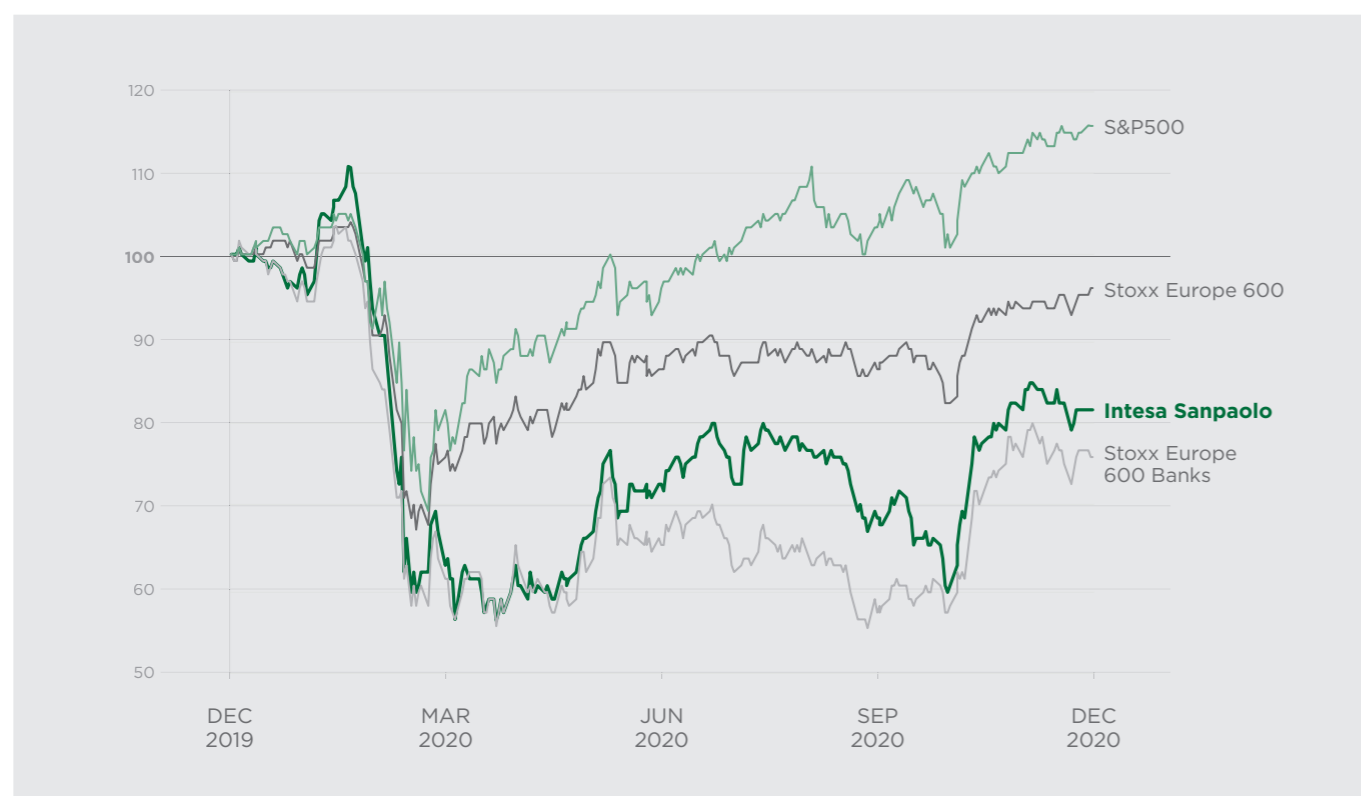

At the end of 2020, the investment in the Fondaco Multi Asset Income fund accounted for 36.5% of the total portfolio, the Fondaco Growth fund for 17.8%, and the Fondaco Euro Cash fund for a further 0.6%.

The remaining 11% consisted of the mission-related investment portfolio, cash and other assets and strategic shareholdings.

2020 results

After a very lively 2019 on the stock markets, 2020 kicked off with positive returns, until the Covid-19 outbreak at the end of February caused sudden losses on all financial markets.

GRAPH 10 2020 performance, rebased (31/12/2019)

After the depths plumbed in March, when investors' risk aversion was at its peak, markets saw an upturn, which was only briefly interrupted in the autumn, as the pandemic worsened again.

The MSCI World index rose by 16.5% (total return, in dollars) over the year as a whole, despite the adverse climate. After a 35% fall on the US stock market in March, share prices showed a marked recovery throughout the year. By the end of 2020, the S&P500 was up 16.2% year on year.

The Emerging Markets Index also showed double-digit growth in 2020, with a strong recovery following the troughs reached in March (MSCI Emerging Markets up 19%, total return at the end of 2020).

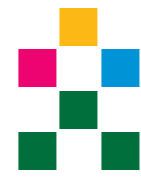

European markets performed less well: the Euro Stoxx 600 index closed the year down 4% on 2019, while Europe's financial sector - and banking in particular - after starting the year on an upward trajectory, recovered more slowly than other sectors and closed 2020 in decidedly negative territory (Stoxx Europe 600 Banks down 24% at the end of 2020).

The exceptionally difficult financial climate prompted the European Central Bank to impose strict limits on European banks, throughout 2020, governing the distribution of profits and the purchase of treasury shares. This forced Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to rebalance its revenue sources in order to compensate for the absence of dividends from Intesa Sanpaolo. In line with the rest of the banking sector, Intesa Sanpaolo's share price fell by 18.6% in 2020.

The diversified part of the financial portfolio achieved excellent results in 2020. Overall, the share of the portfolio invested in funds managed by Fondaco SGR achieved a net return of 5%.

The two funds of funds, Fondaco Multi Asset Income and Fondaco Growth, both made a major contribution to profitability, and generated a substantial share of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo's income. Combined with the sums drawn from the grant stabilisation fund, limited to €25 million, they enabled Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo to carry on paying out broadly the same amount in grants as in previous years.

A significant share of income also came in the form of dividends distributed in relation to other directly held equity investments, such as in Cassa Depositi e Prestiti, Banca d'Italia, Equiter, Iren and CDP Reti.
